

The Silent Prayer

In my heart, I accept my perfect Being.
I accept that the joy I have intended is already in my life.
I accept that the love I have prayed for is already within me.
I accept that the peace I have asked for is already my reality.
I accept that the abundance I have sought already fills my life.

In my truth, I accept my perfect Being.
I take responsibility for my own creations,
And all things that are within my life.
I acknowledge the power of Spirit that is within me,
And I know that all things are as they should be.

In my wisdom, I accept my perfect Being.
My lessons have been carefully chosen by my Self,
And now I walk through them in full sensual experience.
My path takes me on a sacred journey with divine purpose.
My experiences become part of All That I Am.

In my knowingness, I accept my perfect Being.
In this moment, I sit in my golden chair
And I know that I Am an angel of light.
I look upon the golden tray - the gift of Spirit -
And know that all of my desires already have been fulfilled.

In love for my Self, I accept my perfect Being.
I cast no judgment or burdens upon my Self.
I accept that everything in my past was given in love.
I accept that everything in this moment comes in love.
I accept that everything in my future will result in even greater love.

In my Being, I accept my perfection.

And so it is.
